- Lightweight and Compact

Promotes a Home-Like Environment

The CodeWatch™ Transmitter is a small, lightweight device that is worn on the wrist of a resident and can be used with all Code Alert® Wandering Management Solutions. The Transmitter is in the form of a typical wristwatch* to help preserve resident dignity, promote independence and a homelike environment while protecting the resident. Residents wearing transmitters have the freedom to move about the facility, yet remain safe if they attempt to exit an unauthorized area. When a resident wearing a transmitter attempts to exit a Code Alert monitored door, the CodeWatch Transmitter sends a signal to the Receive Antenna, an alarm may sound, the door may lock, and information may be sent to a central location identifying the resident and/or monitored exit, based on your system's configuration.

Comfortable and Durable Banding

The CodeWatch is compatible with all Code Alert Banding Material options including Gray and Blue Adjustable Snap Closure banding designed for one-time use. Also, the CodeWatch works with a Buckle Locking band designed for use in Adult Day Centers. All banding material is latex free.
